Detailed Information:

- Few parents know that there are several different kinds of special needs trusts, and the differences between them are vast. If you use the wrong type of trust, the consequences could range anywhere from having to pay an unnecessary tax burden, to needlessly forking over significant assets to Medicaid, to even jeopardizing your child's access to government benefits and services. This presentation will walk through the differences between each type of trust and ABLÉ Accounts and carefully explain the situations when each trust should be utilized to maximize the benefit for your child. This presentation includes a Q&A for attendees.
