

Yvette R. Murry, MSW, LCSW is the President and CEO of YRM Consulting Group. Yvette has dedicated the past 35 years of her life to improving our society by increasing the intentionality of leaders and organizations. Yvette’s work is grounded in critical race theory, social justice, and racialized trauma.

Yvette works closely with public and mental health practitioners to improve patient outcomes. Her work is designed to enhance therapeutic proficiency of clinicians when partnering with individuals, families, and communities with whom they do not share “lived experience”.

Yvette is actively involved in the development of policy and ethical standards to increase health outcomes of racial and ethnic groups. Her work seeks to encourage and aid provider’s understanding of the root causes of historically marginalized and disenfranchised individuals. She is a clinical social worker with a private practice in NJ.

Zaynab Khan, Psy.D. is a Licensed Psychologist in private practice, Khan Therapy LLC, in East Brunswick, NJ. Her practice is dedicated to healing trauma and working with diverse clients, including people of color, LGBTQIA+ and Muslim clients. She graduated with Psy.D. in Clinical Psychology from the Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology (GSAPP) – Rutgers University. She completed a specialization in multicultural psychology with her dissertation research centered on working with Muslim clients. She also received a certification from Widener University in Advanced Training in Transgender Mental Health. She currently teaches the Multicultural Supervision course at GSAPP – Rutgers University. She has had a commitment to Diversity, Inclusion and Equity in all settings she has worked at and regularly provides trainings in diversity. In her free time, Zaynab enjoys yoga, traveling, and being in nature. (khantherapy.com)