RWJ Rahway Fitness Center Conference Room
2120 Lamberts Mill Road
Scotch Plains, NJ

Join us for a presentation by Trisha Badishian, LCSW, Director of Bridgeway Crisis Intervention Services (“BCIS”) of Union County as she discusses the new BCIS crisis center now open in Elizabeth, NJ.

The center will provide crisis intervention and support to Union County residents ages 18 and older who are experiencing a mental health crisis or a worsening of a pre-existing mental health disorder. The goal is to help people in crisis gain control of their symptoms and remain in the community as an alternative to going to the emergency room. The crisis center is open 7 days a week with day and evening hours.

There is no advance registration for this in-person meeting. Audience participation is encouraged and free literature will be provided.
